

The unprecedented COVID-19 crisis has put our Southeast Texas community to the test.

We are so proud to represent a community that has responded to this crisis with expertise, courage, compassion, and dedication.

The hours are tireless, and as our healthcare heroes continue to work around the clock to provide the highest level of compassionate and expert care to fight COVID-19, we want to thank the businesses, organizations, and individuals who have donated meals, supplies, and equipment to our physicians, nurses, and staff.
